PROGRESSIVES ABANDON PLAN TO HOLD OWN CONVENTION IN COLISEUM FOLLOWING ADJOURNMENT OF STEAM ROLLER

STEAM ROLLER SEATS TAFT DELEGATES FROM CALIFORNIA BY SLIM MARGIN OF 2 VOTES

Claims of T. R. Faction Rejected One After Another By Majorities Ranging From 605 to 464 to 542 to 529.

BRYAN CHEERS AS JOHNSON FLAYS G. O. P. BOSSES

Chicago, June 21.—Taft forces in the republican national convention today further demonstrated their control of that body. The convention took up piecemeal the contests from many states, and in each instance the Taft delegates were declared entitled to their seats by majorities ranging from a high water Taft vote of 605 to 464 to a narrow margin of 542 to 529.

The latter vote was in the California case, in which the convention rules for selection of delegates by congressional districts came into conflict with the state primary law providing for a statewide vote on all delegates. Through this technicality the Taft forces claimed the two delegates from the fourth district.

Fight Is Bitter.
The case was fought bitterly and the voting was followed with the greatest interest, especially when it was seen that the Taft people were losing many delegates that had been with them in other contests.

Despite the Roosevelt people were defeated in all their fights today, there was no indication of a bolt. Some of the Roosevelt leaders had feared that the Californians might take matters into their own hands and fail to observe the Roosevelt program of sitting through the convention to the end and then possibly taking independent action. But their fears proved groundless.

When adjournment was taken to night until 10 a. m., the Texas and Washington contest cases still remained to be dealt with, and there was likelihood of more bitterness between the opposing forces.

After the California case had been disposed of today, however, the delegates seemed to be in much better humor, and there was much merriment during the late afternoon as the minor contests were pushed through with less serious opposition from the Roosevelt people. There were many humorous allusions to the "steam roller," and frequent choruses of "choo, choo, choo," in imitation of the figurative machine.

Enjoy Themselves.
For a large part of the time the delegates were in an uproar of laughter. The galleries became infected and had fun, too. Many of the spectators joined in the awe and says votes—lifting their voices on both sides of the proposition, and all joined in the laughter when Chairman Root invariably ruled:

"The arena appear to have it."

Senator Root often joined in the laughter himself, and once during a lull in the proceedings he remarked: "To see men, laboring under great strain and feeling, keep their temper and hold themselves in restraint, is fine, fine. It speaks well for the endurance of self-government."

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the colonel, watched today's proceedings from the galleries for several hours. After the test vote on California and the victory of the Taft forces in this fight, she left the building.

Tomorrow the convention enters its fifth day and still is proceeding under temporary organization, unprecedented in the history of the party. The leaders are going at their task in earnest tomorrow, and although many doubt their ability to do so, are going to try to get through with the nominations and everything else before adjournment early Sunday morning.

Report Brought.
At 3.57 the chairman rapped for order and W. T. Devell of Washington brought in the credential committee report of the fourth California district, seating the two Taft delegates, and moved its adoption.

The report recommended seating Tryon and Merrifield, the two Taft delegates, and set forth that the vote in the fourth congressional district elected Tryon and Merrifield, although in the state-wide vote the Roosevelt delegates received a majority of 77,000. The committee held that the state primary law, which did not provide a vote by districts, could not supersede the call issued by the national committee, which distinctly provided for representation in the convention by congressional districts.

Moans Great Statement.
Greens, hoots and hisses from the California delegation greeted the statement in the majority that the California primary law would in effect enforce the unit rule in its delegation and the further statement that the national convention and state laws is the supreme source of party regularity.

Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota brought in the minority report. He was greeted with cheers as he read the report denouncing the seating of the Taft delegates as the "tyrannical overthrow of the will of the people of California."

Halbert attempted to make a speech, but was forced to desist by disorder.

Wilson, the Taft floor leader, moved that the minority report be laid on the table, but pending that he asked that twenty minutes be allowed for discussion. His motion was greeted with jeers and cries of "Hadley, Hadley, Hadley."

The governor arose from his place on the stage and the noise subsided.

Henry Takes Platform.
Senator Root put the request for unanimous consent for debate and it was granted.

Francis J. Henry took the platform and opened the argument on the minority report.

Henry said the question at issue went to the very root of self-government, whether the law of a sovereign state, submitted by both factions in the party, should be set aside by the mandate of the national committee.

He denounced what he termed an attempt to "rob the people of California of their rights of representation."

Henry reviewed the political history of California, saying that two years ago the people emancipated themselves from the rule of a corrupt machine controlled by the railroads. He compared California in the past with "machine controlled Pennsylvania and Colorado."

A delegate from Pennsylvania arose and made a point of order that the speaker should confine himself to the issue.

Two Tafts Afraid.
"The speaker is not yet over the line where he should be called to order," remarked Chairman Root with an emphasis on the "yet," which the crowd cheered. Henry said the two Taft delegates seated by the national committee had dared to sit with the remainder of the California delegation, but had taken refuge "in the vest pocket of somebody on this platform."

"Before these two men were able to run under the primary law," he said, "both they and the man they were to represent were forced to pledge themselves to abide by the preferences of the state. President Taft did that, and if he now accepts the votes of these two men in this convention, he will be guilty of high treason."

Henry declared that it was impossible under the return of the election to decide what the vote was in an individual district.

"Where's Aldrich?"
Congressman Sarno E. Payne of New York, author of the Payne bill, was greeted with mingled cheers and hoots as he appeared to take up the argument of the delegates.

"Where's Aldrich?" yelled a man in the gallery.

Mr. Payne asked for a patient hearing. He said the two Taft delegates did not sit with the California delegation because the chairman of that delegation would not give them seats to which they were entitled. His declaration that the Taft delegates had been elected by the supreme law of national republicanism was greeted with hisses, groans and boos.

The demonstration grew until Senator Smoot took a hand with this warning:

"No cause in a Republican national convention was ever won by drowning speech on either side."

Mr. Payne said he proposed to be heard "if it took four hours."

"Payne declared the California statewide primary law was forced through the California legislature because of the fear of the Roosevelt people that Taft would get several of the congressional districts under the method of selecting delegates by districts."

"Why don't you elect your presidential electors that way?" asked a member of the California delegation.

"Because we have no control over that," retorted Payne.

Floor Leader Watson took the

BRYAN CALLS ON CANDIDATES TO JOIN IN FIGHT ON PARKER; CLARK MEN AID NEW YORKER?

Commoner Wires Wilson, Speaker, Gaynor, Foss and Baldwin to Oppose Selection of "Reactionary" as Temporary Chairman.

HENRY OF TEXAS SAYS HE WILL STAND WITH NEBRASKAN

By The Associated Press.

Baltimore, June 21.—W. J. Bryan's telegraphic note to five candidates for the presidential nomination—Speaker Clark, Gov. Wilson, Gov. Foss, Gov. Baldwin and Mayor Gaynor—asking them to join him in opposition to the selection of Judge Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of the democratic national convention on the ground that he was a conservative, dissipated tonight the faint hope of some of the leaders here that a fight at the opening of the convention might still be avoided.

Clark With Parker.
Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, with other Tammany chiefs, came over from New York tonight, and was quickly in conference with those national committeemen who had voted for Judge Parker.

No denial that the Clark leaders had joined with the Parker forces was forthcoming during the day, and it was generally accepted as a fact. This alliance, it was reported, would result in New York's ninety votes being cast for Clark for the nomination.

National committeemen standing by Parker openly declared Bryan would be defeated in the national convention, even though he accepted a proxy from some committeeman and appeared in opposition to Judge Parker.

Representative R. L. Henry of Texas, who was regarded as the Wilson candidate for temporary chairman, tonight came out with the following declaration:

Henry Against Parker.
"This is not a personal fight of mine, but a contest for progressive democratic principles. The progressives can not and will not agree to the selection of Judge Parker, a known reactionary, for temporary chairman to preside over a convention in which a very large majority of the delegates are genuinely progressive."

There was no end of conferences today between the various committeemen to prepare the plans for a fight. Former Chairman Tom Taggart of Indiana declared for harmony and hoped that everything could be settled satisfactorily.

NEWS' PRESS ERECTOR IS AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

COMPLIMENTS WACO ON INSTALLATION HERE OF NEW HIGH-SPEED COLOR PRESS.

"The morning of the 12th I said you could quote me as saying that the 75,000 pounds of new high-speed machinery of The News would be ready for operation within twenty-one days," said Conrad Malweski, expert of Chicago's largest factory, "and I am prepared to say that at midnight tonight we will have more than kept up the schedule, and that by working three shifts of workmen, we hope to be able to put the best plant in central Texas in operation within eleven days or less."

"The News has the highest capacity plant ever installed in a city of Waco's size, and the people ought to appreciate the magnificent machinery installed here. The new model high-speed color metropolitan press is a beauty and is working out perfectly. I do not know of a prettier piece of machinery weighing 60,000 pounds. The stereotyping machinery is the fastest I know of, and the extra machinists who have been here have admired it and remarked over its new lines."

"The plumbers and carpenters and machinists and mechanics and helpers have done their work well, and I have really accomplished more work in the past two weeks than I thought we could do."

"We will be right on time with the first color metropolitan press ever attempted in a city of this size, and decidedly the fastest ever shipped to central Texas. It means that Waco is now competing with the largest newspapers in the world, and I am proud to be the superintendent for the Goss company, largest builders in the world of high-speed newspaper presses, for the erection of The Waco Morning News press. The News certainly has circulation," concluded Mr. Malweski.

T. R. TO INVADE SOUTH IF NAMED TO BEAR NEW PARTY'S STANDARD

WON'T PRESENT ROOSEVELT'S NAME

COLONEL NOT LIKELY TO BE PLACED IN NOMINATION IF HE HAS HIS W. Y.

Taft Likely to Win on First Ballot. Proceedings Scheduled to Reach End Today.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 21.—Republican leaders directing affairs of the national convention are going to try tomorrow to crowd the work of three days into one. With permanent organization yet to be effected, with seven important contest cases yet to be heard, with rules to adopt, platform to be threshed out and nominations for president and vice president to be made, the convention will be called at 10 a. m., and every possible effort will be made to dispose of the accumulated business before the session is ended.

Taft on First Ballot.
It seemed a foregone conclusion tonight that President Taft will be nominated on the first ballot. Col. Roosevelt's name will not be presented to the "tainted" convention, if his wishes are followed. It was generally believed the delegates instructed for Col. Roosevelt would offer his name despite his expressed desires.

The platform makers determined tonight to disregard entirely the question of woman suffrage. A compromise has been reached on the tariff, the platform declaring the tariff to be a matter of consideration and recommendation by the tariff board.

EVELYN THAW PROTESTS AT TELLING STORY AGAIN

SAYS HUSBAND HID BEHIND HER SKIRTS AT HIS TWO TRIALS. IN TEARS.

By The Associated Press.

White Plains, N. Y., June 21.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw protested bitterly in giving testimony in the case of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, against having to go all over again the details of her relations with Stanford White.

"Right here and now," she cried when pressed by counsel for Thaw, "I am trying to have him released from Matteswan. I want to know whether I have to go all through this thing again. It's bad enough that Thaw hid behind my skirts in his two dirty trials. You don't need to go into details, and you know it, and you can't get me to answer."

In beginning the cross-examination Counsel Shearn had the witness go over details about her early life in a little New Jersey village, then in Philadelphia, and finally in New York, where she began to pose for artists, and then went on the stage. He led her through the first stages of her acquaintance with Stanford White, and to his visits to his studio, with the swing hung from the ceiling, and to his quarters in the Madison Square Garden tower.

Thaw hung intently on the girl's testimony. He appeared to be biting his nails.

She told of her visit to White's apartment, but burst out with her indignant protest when asked to answer further intimate questions. Tears filled her eyes after her outburst, and she spoke in a shaky voice.

"You know all about this, and so does everyone else," she cried.

MAY SEEK COALITION WITH RADICAL DEMOCRATIC WING

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 21.—If Col. Roosevelt eventually heads an independent ticket, it seems certain tonight that the convention which will name him will be held at a time considerably after the time of the adjournment of the republican convention. As the result of the decisive votes of today's proceedings of the convention, particularly that on the fourth California district contest, and after a day's sober reflection on the part of his close advisers, the plan for a continuation of the present convention, as outlined yesterday, practically has been abandoned.

If, furthermore, Roosevelt is placed in nomination before the convention now in session it will not be his planning or with his consent but the individual acts of some one of his enthusiastic friends. These points in the otherwise somewhat indefinite Roosevelt program were made clear tonight by Col. Roosevelt himself and confirmed by some of his closest advisers.

Would Go Limb.

Some of Col. Roosevelt's more radical supporters still cling to the belief that it would be wise to carry out their original plan, which in effect was stoutly to maintain that the republican convention is irregular and illegal, and after its adjournment to proceed with an organization in the same hall and name their ticket with Roosevelt at its head.

Col. Roosevelt, however, today refused to sanction this plan. He did not forbid it. He still maintains he is bound to obey the wishes of his supporters and that he is willing personally to bear the responsibility.

Should the nomination be offered to him under such circumstances it is not his intention to decline, but he believes the wiser course would be to defer final action along such lines for a few weeks.

To Sound Sentiment.

His ideas, as explained today, is that his supporters shall return to their homes and learn the sentiment in their own communities. A month or six weeks later, should conditions warrant his leaders from different parts of the country will assemble to demonstrate whether there exists a sufficient widespread sentiment to justify the creation of a new party. If the decision is in the affirmative, a national convention will be held.

It is his confident belief that a decided protest in every section of the country will be made when the facts in connection with the unseating of his delegates become known, and that this protest will foment until it develops into a formidable movement. Such movement, he believes, will not be entirely partisan, but will come from the plain people of all parties to whom he has made his appeal during his campaign. If he were nominated, he said, he would carry the fight into the south with as much vigor as in the north. Col. Roosevelt says he needs no sympathy, and no matter what the outcome may be, the fight, he says, has been one worth making, win or lose, and his own position cannot be changed by the outcome.

His Following Divided.
There is a division of opinion among Roosevelt leaders as to what part of his following will stand by him to the extent of severing the tie with their party. Col. Roosevelt's belief, as stated by his friends, is that they cannot take the final step with him, a majority of them will do so. Col. Roosevelt's position is that he wished to bring no pressure to bear upon any man to follow him. He will not ask them to make personal sacrifice for him, as he can promise them no return.

Col. Roosevelt would express no opinion as to the possibility of effecting a coalition with any element of the democratic party. Some of his supporters, however, are less reticent. E. A. Perry, chairman of the Oklahoma delegation, said tonight that after the convention had adjourned his delegates would go to Baltimore and open negotiations with progressive democrats for the formation of a progressive party.

Tonight Mr. Roosevelt met with a large number of his delegates for a few minutes. He did not outline any further plan of action, but thanked his supporters for their devotion to him and promised to meet them again tomorrow.

Loves "Game Sport."
"I am proud of the manner in which you are fighting in the face of the steam roller. I love a game sport."

Mr. Roosevelt told the delegates that after the action in the California case there was no use of making any further contest or carrying on the fight or paying any further attention to any action of the convention.

While Mr. Roosevelt was in conference with his advisers a crowd of several thousand persons gathered in Michigan avenue and cheered until he raised a window and addressed them.

"My friends," he said, "my hat is in the ring, and will be in stronger than ever."

Taft was given a total of 297 and Roosevelt 15. All but the Texas contests had been disposed of when the committee took its recess until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

City Commissioners Also Consider
Plans for North Waco
Fire Station.

As an incentive for new and large factories to locate in the city of actualities, and to encourage those to greater things which have already cast their lot among us, it was the opinion of Commissioner Wright, concurred in by Mayor Mackey and the entire board of city commissioners at the meeting of the board of commissioners, yesterday, that some plan be worked out whereby the big power plant which will be located here may be induced to furnish power to factories at a nominal rate. It was understood that there are to be some concessions asked for by the corporation in the way of franchise, etc., and the board hopes to affect an agreement with them to receive the cheap rate in return for whatever concessions the corporation may ask for.

At any rate a determined effort will be made to get a cheap and attractive power rate. When Commissioner Wright called the board's attention to the rate question everybody at once took to the idea, and at once it was decided to attempt to arrange it thusly.

"To my mind there could be no greater inducement offered to factories to locate here than cheap power. I hope a plan can be worked out whereby Waco will get the cheap power," stated Commissioner Wright.

Dog Wagon Starts Today.
Chaos reigns in the ranks of dogdom. The dog throne trembles. Doggies in all walks and conditions of life are filled with apprehension and fear. There is a reason—the famous dog wagon begins its rounds this very morn. A cruel man armed with a crooked poker and a rope accompanies the terrible wagon, and with a single jerk and twist of the implement of capture yanks the helpless dog from its lair. The dog is either forgotten or cast not enough for his faithful companion and friend to pay the regulation tax upon his doggy's head.

The excited curs and currenans will be conveyed to the city dogery where, the kind-hearted Mayor Mackey has provided a painless death, instead of the old-fashioned method of shooting them, as was formerly the custom. Instead the four-footed delinquents will be given a jolt to the land where dog tax is tabooed and cats are lawless. The trip will be made via the chloroform route.

War on Speeders.
That the war on speeders, human beings who persist in running their devil's wagons at a reckless speed over the streets of a crowded city, and endangering the lives and limbs of the inhabitants thereof, is to be continued and prosecuted without fear or favor was the substance of another order that went forth from the mayor's sanctum. An old ordinance regarding the right of the road travel regulations, which is now on the press and will be distributed to the licensees of this city in order that they may be given a warning of this important and necessary ordinance. Mayor Mackey stated that a reasonable time would be allowed for the people to educate themselves upon this line, after which a vigorous campaign for the right of the road would be inaugurated. Better wise up along this line, or one of those big traffic policemen will surely get you.

Plans for Fire Station.
Plans from a number of local architects for the erection of the North Waco fire station were submitted to the board. Among the plans noted were those of Architects T. Brooks Pearson, Mr. Wilson, representing Sanguinetti & Statka, and Milton Scott. The plans were referred to Fire Commissioner Wright.

That the war on speeders, human beings who persist in running their devil's wagons at a reckless speed over the streets of a crowded city, and endangering the lives and limbs of the inhabitants thereof, is to be continued and prosecuted without fear or favor was the substance of another order that went forth from the mayor's sanctum. An old ordinance regarding the right of the road travel regulations, which is now on the press and will be distributed to the licensees of this city in order that they may be given a warning of this important and necessary ordinance. Mayor Mackey stated that a reasonable time would be allowed for the people to educate themselves upon this line, after which a vigorous campaign for the right of the road would be inaugurated. Better wise up along this line, or one of those big traffic policemen will surely get you.

MR. GRIFFIN TELLS ## OF "PLANT JUICE"

Well Known Houston Heights Citizen Relates Interesting Details of His Wife's Recovery.

Mr. J. C. Griffin, who lives at 713 Cortlandt avenue, Houston Heights, Houston, Texas, and who is employed at the Commercial National bank, talked as follows regarding "Plant Juice."

"My wife has been a sufferer from constipation and kidney trouble for years, also a weak stomach. Any medicine she would take would be too strong for her stomach and she was afraid at first that Plant Juice was going to be too strong. But she was so anxious to get relief and heard of so many that were being benefited that she continued to take it, and now she has no trouble. She has gone as long as a week with no movement of the bowels without very strong cathartics; stomach so bad she could not eat more than one meal a day and that distressed her; could not sleep and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Since using the Plant Juice she can eat a good, hearty meal; relish and digest. She sleeps sound and wakes up refreshed; building up her nerve forces, and doesn't look or feel like the same woman. Have spent a good deal of money trying to get help for her; lived in Bryan for thirty-five years. My wife is the daughter of William Arrington of Grimes county, and is well known there. I am glad to speak a good word for Plant Juice. It is all that it is recommended to be."

No tonic or other article has ever been introduced in Texas that has brought forth so much public praise, so many voluntary testimonials and so many hearty endorsements and recommendations as has "Plant Juice." It is the greatest tonic and specific of the age for all stomach, nerve, kidney, liver and blood ailments. It acts quickly and the effects are lasting. It is purely vegetable and is free of any injurious substance. Call today at Old Corner drug store and get a bottle.

CLARK HOWELL ON

CONVENTION'S PAST

GEORGIA DEMOCRATS' MOST VIVID MEMORY IS "MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA."

Special to The Morning News.

Atlanta, Ga., June 21.—Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, has represented Georgia for 20 years on the Democratic National committee and recently was re-elected for another four years. He was elected national committeeman in 1892 and he has been a part of every Democratic national convention since.

Curiously enough, however, some of the most dramatic incidents recalled by Mr. Howell occurred in a Republican national convention in which antedated his election to the Democratic national committee.

"I shall never forget the Republican convention of 1888," said Mr. Howell. "For there I first heard a band play 'Marching Through Georgia,' say Frederick Douglass restore peace in the convention after 'Bob' Ingersoll had almost broken it up, and heard William McKinley refuse the nomination, which he might have had and which came to him eight years later. I saw these momentous happenings from a box which I occupied with the late Gen. Fred D. Grant and Mrs. Grant."

"I was attending the convention for the Constitution and had a seat at one extreme of the space allotted to newspaper correspondents. My seat was right against the box in which General and Mrs. Grant were seated, and I was very much crowded. Grant, who was not a general then, and whom I did not know, leaned from his box, tapped me on the shoulder and said: 'You are uncomfortable where you are; there is plenty of room in this box; come in and make yourself at home.'"

"I gladly accepted, and on entering the box learned that I owed my escape from an uncomfortable position to the son of the great Union general."

"Soon after I entered the Grant box a band somewhere in the auditorium began to play an air which struck me as being very stirring, but which I did not recognize. Almost as soon as the band struck up, the thousands of people in the great hall rose to their feet and began to sing words to the air. I don't think I have ever been more impressed by the fervor exhibited by a lot of singers. The band continued to blare the stirring notes of the air and the thousands in the auditorium continued to sing, many marching as they sang."

"I was deeply impressed, and, turning to Grant, asked: 'What is that they are singing?' Grant looked at me in amazement for a moment and then burst into laughter. 'You don't know that air and song?' he said. 'No, sir,' I replied. 'I don't think I ever heard it before.' 'Why, young man,' said Grant, 'the band is playing and the people are singing "Marching Through Georgia."'

"And that was my introduction to the song which Sherman's army made famous as it swept its conquering way through my state. 'I explained to Grant that 'Marching Through Georgia' had been tabooed in my state since Sherman's soldiers kept step to the air on their way to the sea and that my ignorance was natural. That was 23 years after the war and yet I had never heard an air so historically associated with my state because of the bitterness that followed Sherman's famous march. That bitterness has all passed now and 'Marching Through Georgia' is frequently heard as parades pass through the streets of Atlanta. Twenty-five years ago the air would have almost provoked a riot in any Southern city."

MISSISSIPPI CAVIAR AS ## GOOD AS THE RUSSIAN

Special to The Morning News.

Winona, Minn., June 21.—When it is shipped from Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin, a jet black, slim gelatinous mass of tiny globules, the balls or bags in which it is packed are labelled "sturgeon roe." By the time the product has reached its destination and is gracing a platter in a New York, London or Paris restaurant it has become "Russian Caviar."

The deception is an innocent one, since the roe of the Mississippi sturgeon has been found to be quite equal to the "Russian caviar."

WOMAN TRAVELS IN "BOND." Special to The Morning News.

Vancouver, B. C., June 21.—Mrs. Frank Law, the American wife of a wealthy Chinese of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., arrived from the East yesterday "in bond." Having married a foreigner, she is viewed by the Canadian authorities as a Chinese despite her American birth, and made the trip across Canada as bonded merchandise en route to the Orient.

Mrs. Law narrowly escaped detention in the shed where American Chinese bound for the Orient are kept until their steamers sail.

AWAKENED CHINA DEMANDS NEW GARB

Manufacturers Find a Great Market
There For Ready-Made Clothing.

Special in The Morning News

Peking, June 21.—Manufacturers of the world are discovering to their great joy that changing China from an empire to a republic means the opening of a great new market for clothing of the American and European type.

When leaders of the new movement cut off their queues, the donning of other styles of clothing followed at once. With the typical queue shorn, the standard dress of the Chinese looked grotesque. Soft hats and caps were bought and the next change was at the other end. The cloth shoes, boat shaped at the toe and made to wear on either foot, were discarded for the leather shoes worn by the Occidentals. Then the flowing blouse and expansive trousers were discarded and now the leaders look quite the same as any other men in their garments.

In China, as elsewhere, it is conceded that one might as well be out of the world as out of the fashion; so, with the prominent men of the country wearing strange garb, other men in the 400,000,000 population have a wild desire to be attired in the new way.

This means that makers of clothes, hats and shoes will find a tremendous market in China at once, that will continue until the imitative Chinese learn to make these articles themselves in an up-to-date way.

The typical cloth shoe of China costs 25 cents and is a flimsy creation, requiring continuous patching. The few leather shoes worn are nearly all made in Japan. They sell from $1 to $1.50 and have nothing to recommend them except as an alternative of this style or nothing.

There are fortunes awaiting the American makers of shoes who are early in the field with complete lines.

MISS KATE FRIEND, Editor.

MESDAMES TOD AND CARROLL ENTERTAIN AT ELKS CLUB

It remained for the summer season to afford the largest card function, at least the largest game of bridge ever formed from Waco society.

This came as the compliment of Mesdames George Tod and William Carroll to Miss Harwood, a visitor from Tennessee, and to Miss Rowena Sturgis, who is just returned from school in Virginia. In paying this pretty friendship token, the hostesses sought to include the season's brides, the brides-to-be and the visitors in several homes.

In all, there was an imposing assemblage in the parlors of the club. The usual prizes were in waiting, but each guest felt that she retained a cherished souvenir, since the scores were kept on cards brought very recently by Mrs. Bayless Harris from Japan. These had all the subtle atmosphere of the Japanese art-touch in designs of jirickaha, geisha girl, and coolie carrier. The tray was held by Mrs. Charliebel Tod at the stair landing. Hostesses and honorees were greeted at the entrance to the game rooms, and there was a pleasing general greeting before tables were sought. Seats taken, there was found an aggregation of more than one hundred. Six rounds of hands were made, and then came the prize award. Each of the honorees was presented a dainty summer fan. Mrs. James D. Williamson received a crystal berry bowl for the highest score, and Miss Nancy Lacy took the consolation favor. During the award, the refreshment room was opened. The two tables were flower decked, a rustic basket centering each. Two punch bowls found Mesdames Frances Luedde and Esther Gross in charge. The sandwich trays were passed freely, and the guests chatted for a half hour. Mesdames Tod and Carroll entertained with those small, gracious attentions which assure the thoughtful hostess. Their courtesy to Mesdames Sturgis and Harwood is receiving all manner of compliment. The guests in this notable card function were:

Mesdames Williamson, Brooks Pearson, W. J. Lincoln, Robert Coleman, C. N. Smith, C. C. Johnson, Hart Moore, Bessie Picklen, Lloyd Tuttle, A. J. Holder, J. P. Massey, William Edmond, Adrian Moore, Ed Sturgis, Ed Laughlin, S. E. Stratton, J. S. Till, Bayless Harris, Nelson Smith, Frank Trau, J. A. Lord, Herman Hank, James Mistror, R. G. Wendling, Walter Lacy, Charles Parker, C. M. Clisbee, E. F. Drake, Edwin Drake, Ludwell Williams, E. F. Carroll, Beauford McWhirter, M. L. Baker, William McCall, R. T. Crawford, Charles Hamilton, Coke Horne, J. L. Whitworth, W. L. Geer, Charles Moore, Lon Sparks, Ralph Turner, John Ray, Frank Wells, M. C. H. Park, Archer of San Antonio, Irwin Colgin, W. P. Coffield, Layton Puckett, Charles Curry, Ben Jennings, Misses Stella Lacy, Nancy Lacy, Mary Glover, McNeill of Missouri, Nell Jurney, Agnes Taylor, Eleanor Blair, Anderson of Tyler, Ida Orand, Rowena Barnett, Clarkson of Corsicana, Kate Friend, Rosalie Sturgis, Jimmie Riggs, Robbie Riggs, Edie May Riggs, Lacy Early, Roberta Early, Esther Gross, Violet Gross, Blanche Gross, Sara Gross, Etelle Horne, Jimmie Horne, Ruth Lennox, White of Fort Worth, Margaret Horsfall, Frances Luedde, Marjorie Crawford, Marjorie Beckwith of Houston, Regia Flanagan, Chatham of San Antonio, Lucile Lewis.

the toast, cutting of the bride's cake and the usual gaiety of a wedding feast. The bride made her marriage vows in a robe of duchess satin, enriched with pearls and lace. Her veil was caught by valley lily sprays, and her bouquet the conventional bride cluster. This was exchanged for a going-away suit. The formal wedding journey embraces Texas points, but it is the present intention of Mrs. Franklin to travel indefinitely with her husband on his business rounds.

The out of town guests who made the house party together with those who assisted in the welcome and entertainment of guests were: Mrs. J. T. Franklin, and Miss Edith Franklin of Fort Worth, Olin Poulson of Clifton, Sophie Fitzpatrick, Lily Fitzpatrick, Hallie Jameson, Grace Temple, Grace Haynes, Leon Grizzard of Giddings, Florence Walsh, Florence Swan, Miss Delilah von Tierck of Texarkana, Miss Birdie Duer Harn and Mrs. C. E. Williamson.

THE HAMMOND-LACY WEDDING AT COLUMBUS STREET CHURCH

The sunset hour on Wednesday found many friends entering the Columbus Baptist church. This was for what proved a very impressive marriage ceremony, where W. S. Hammond and Miss Genevieve Lacy were principals. The bridegroom is recently removed to this city from Chicago, but his young bride, the attractive daughter of Mrs. N. J. Lacy, has lived all her young life among the friends who gathered as witnesses to this sacred moment when the supreme happiness of that life was consecrated. The altar had been palm set in profusion, making a refreshing spot in the spacious auditorium. A musical prelude signaled the opening of the service. In this, accompanied by Harry Lee Spencer, Miss Sallie Keith sang "It Is Not Because Your Heart Is Mine." This drifted into the mellow chords of "Here Comes the Bride," the old favorite from Lohengrin. The procession was made single file, the bridesmaids and the groomsmen alternating. These were Miss Annie Allison, Miss May LaPrelle of Austin, and Miss Helen Olenbush, with T. B. Priddy, A. C. McClelland and Talbot LaPrelle. The little flower maid, Sudelle Norton of Calvert, preceded the maid of honor, Miss Ruby Lacy. The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Newton Lacy. In the meantime, the groom, attended by A. J. Vawter, emerged from the rear room and was in waiting for the coming of his bride before the minister. Reverend Frank Groner. The station for the service was taken under an archway of green from which depended a huge wedding bell, wrought from the valley lily sprays with their own foliage. One could catch the vibration of intense interest through this vast assembly as the solemn words were spoken and the more solemn vows made.

Immediate passage was made for the home of the bride which had been put in gala dress of flowers and foliage. Pink was the prevailing color tone for the reception room, while white and green was the treatment for the supper room. Congratulations were many and hearty, but the merriment was in reserve for the cutting of the bride's cake. This sat in state upon a picture table canopied by white maline and centered by a cushion of the Shasta daisy. Mrs. J. E. Allison and Mrs. J. Ed Turner received the guests, while assisting mothers, Mesdames Lacy and Hammond within, were Mesdames J. S. Hill and Thomas McCulloch, also Misses Lydia Bailey and Mary Allison. Mrs. Herman Hensbush was matron in charge of the collection of wedding gifts. This included at least two hundred pieces.

The costume was one of the notable features in this wedding. The bride wore the conventional robe of white messaline, coronation train and lace panels with orange blossom and a touch of pearl garniture. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet, the valley lily was prominent. Her only jewel was the groom's gift, a lavalliere of pearls and diamond. Each of the maids carried her own costume tone in crepe meteor, pink, blue and canary. The coiffures showed the payche knot with maline band caught by an aigrette. The flowers were La France buds. The bride's going away suit was of the tan tone and the tailor design.

The bridal trip embraces and extended tour of the Pacific states.

BRIDGE WITH MRS. GREGG FOR MRS. HACKLER OF DALLAS

In selecting guests for Thursday morning, Mrs. Walter Gregg desired not so much to furnish a card excitement as to gather about her sister, Mrs. Hackler, of Dallas, some of the old friends whom she knew in her girlhood days. But, forming a game of bridge made a dual pleasure. It was quite a pleasant game, punctuated with much by way of pleasing conversation. Miss Lena Woolford of Maryland, was the only out of town player. The prizes fell to Mrs. Walter Lacy for the head score, and to Mrs. Ed Sturgis for the consolation. There were four tables, twenty congenial friends, to have this morning with Mrs. Hackler and Mrs. Gregg.

Sudden illness in her home prevents Mrs. J. W. Bass from acting as hostess for the tea at the Huaco club this afternoon. Mrs. Norman Shumate will preside, assisted by Mesdames William Cameron, James Mistror, H. M. Minier and Ernest Groos. These hope to meet all of the club members, their wives and the women friends of the members.

Society Notes.

Is it not a sad commentary upon a woman's conception of her duty when she is enrolled with any organization and never does one thing to promote the interest of that body?

The flag has not done its last service at Cameron park by any means. It is in the custody of the caretaker, to be raised upon all gala days. The removal is the precaution against the hot summer suns.

The Home has sold its first lot, which begins a fund for the first income which this institution has ever had other than through personal efforts and donations.

The philanthropic feature in library extension has taken on yet another branch. This is a traveling box of books for the blind. What a pleasure this must be! We have a half dozen educated blind right here in our own community.

The graduation present to Miss Annis Roper of Austin and Fort-tenth, is a trip to Europe. She leaves with her parents about the first of July.

Cotton Palace Heights may sound a little more aristocratic than Bell's Hill, but here is a plea for the latter. This is because this name honors the first man who ever brought the gushing artesian water to the surface of our little city. He spent his thought, time and money, and is now no more. Why not do his memory this honor? This name is associated with the late Captain J. D. Bell.

Mrs. Downs Marshall, who left Waco for Memphis, was continued her journey to join her mother and sister at Verona, N. J., where she will spend the summer.

It is the proper thing for a mother to issue all invitations for her daughter, and in doing this she should mention the husband. The only exception is for the informal affair in which the daughter has her club or other gathering of her girl friends.

The J. W. Davis cottage on Sixteenth and Bosque, has been sold and Mrs. Davis leaves soon to summer in the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina.

The old friends of Mrs. Katherine Douglas Bronston will be pleased to hear from her again. She has been abroad for advanced voice study and is now teaching in Galloway college. She retains a lively interest in Waco, although it has been many years since she taught at the Old Methodist Female college and lent her unusually sweet voice to entertainments here.

Mrs. Anne Watt McClelland of Austin, has selected for her summer home a cottage out at Fort Davis.

Study a picture every day. You will never regret it.

How old do you suppose the old oak is in your yard? The know-alls of tree life insist that many in Waco have reached the three century mark. Stop and think what that means. When Queen Elizabeth reigned, when Shakspeare lived, when the American colonies were first settled, that oak in your yard was growing.

How many think to say the word of appreciation to those who contributed to the music in the burial of our loved one? And, speaking of this same music, we must be a little more apt to the moment in our order of music service. It is an innovation to have the choir sing at a home service while the casket is being taken to the hearse. This relieves the terrible pang of parting and also fills the pause while the removal is being made. Will not some one make the innovation here as it has been done elsewhere?

Mrs. M. E. Manton and Miss Ida Duke are upon the eve of departure for a delightful summer trip. They will enjoy all intervening points between this and New York City, with their longest stop at the delightful New York Chautauqua. They leave with the first of July.

Keep pets about the home. It will expand your heart.

Some of the women are already discussing the making of their Christmas presents. Wonder if they really are at work or are thinking about it, so that they will keep cooler in imagination?

The Baptist Sunday schools, pupils and teachers took possession of Cameron in large numbers on Thursday and Friday. This was the annual picnic outing, the first where the little folks had enjoyed the playground.

Cultivate the trash can habit, and do not throw your waste pieces on the sidewalk down town or on the ground out at the park.

Mesdames Tod and Carroll made a very pretty decorative effect for their card party by using the prairie thistles and sunflowers, both being now in their perfection of bloom.

If any one chanced to pick up the talley with gold buttercup, diamond centered, stick pin, at the Tod-Carroll card party, they will please notify Miss Kate Friend.

PANHANDLERS' HOST
DESCENDS ON TOWN

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, June 21.—"Panhandlers," as well as the "light-fingered gents," have swooped down on Baltimore, feeling that they can reap a harvest here during the convention. Many pedestrians are being held up daily—especially at night—to listen to hard-luck stories, and many are giving up freely.

One husky looking fellow, neatly dressed, with a well-oiled tongue, is working a clever game. He tells a hard-luck story so plausible that it has a genuine ring to the average man. On parting the beggar asks for the man's card, wishing to remember him and to know him that he is honest, and will return the money when he gets on his feet.

With this card the panhandler will walk a few squares and then brace another man, presenting the card of the last victim, and appealing to him for help. Thus it is that some Baltimoreans are begging these days, but they do not know it.

WANTS A CABINET JOE.

Special to The Morning News.

Chicago, June 21.—The first applicant for a cabinet position has made himself known.

His name is G. R. Wornor of Brewster, Kas., and he wants to be secretary of agriculture under Roosevelt.

"I come from the plain people, and I come from the soil," explained Wornor, speaking with a slight German accent in token of his birthplace. "I know what the farmers need."

"I took up a homestead in what you call the dry farming country in Northeast Kansas when I was 21 years old. That was in 1885. I have stayed on through the drouth and the hard times, and I know what it means to develop a new country. I now own 800 acres. We have a beautiful country now which we shall some time irrigate from wells. But we have built that country out of our lives."

"The men of the soil should name the secretary of agriculture. That department belongs to them. I speak for them. If I do not get it, I should go to some other man of the soil."

Mr. Wornor adds that he expects his six children to give him some standing with Roosevelt.

SMASH 42 WINDOWS

Special to The Morning News.

Dublin, June 21.—A campaign of window smashing was opened today by the Irish suffragettes, who tried to emulate the deeds of their English sisters, but came into vigorous conflict with the authorities.

After the women had made an energetic attack on most of the public buildings, eight of them, who were armed with bags of stone, were arrested.

The women before the police came on the scene had set siege to and succeeded in shattering forty-two windows of the custom house, the postoffice, the land commission office and the police and military barracks.

Cambridge, Mass., June 21.—Prof. Dudley A. Sargent, head of the department of physical culture at Harvard, thinks students should go through a high-school course in half the present time in adequate physical training was prescribed in the curriculum. Statistics show that the public school graduates obtain more scholastic honors at Harvard than do those of the private schools, who have better physical attainments.

Wilkes-Barre Pair Solve Differences
In Novel Manner.

Special to The Morning News.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 21.—After living together for ten years, Isaac and Elizabeth Huffman, husband and wife, have decided to separate. Inasmuch as neither intends marrying again, a separation agreement, signed by both, has been filed in the office of the recorder of deeds.

The agreement states that unhappy differences have driven them apart, to remain so forever. The husband agrees to let his wife live wherever she pleases and with whom she pleases. He promises not to disturb her, and he declares he will never visit her again knowingly. He relinquishes any claim to property that she now has or may later acquire.

The woman agrees that she will never call upon her husband for support, for either herself or children, and will not contract any debts for which he may be liable. She agrees not to claim or demand any of his money, and declares she will live apart from him, as if he were a stranger.

Both signed the agreement, in the presence of James M. Boland, a prominent insurance man.

BEAUMONT SHUTOUT THIRD TIME BY WACO, SCORE 5-0

Martina Wild, Passes Four in First Inning, Forcing One In---Hits Prove Effective in Fifth Frame.

OGLE PITCHES STEADY GAME--M'LAURIN STAR BATTER

Three straight shutout victories over Beaumont, the last, yesterday, due to hits and Martina's wildness, netting two runs in the first inning and three in the fifth, caused Waco to win the third and last game of the series by a 5 to 0 score. Martina passed four in the first, forcing in one score. With the exception of one man who was passed, a Beaumont player did not even hesitate, let alone reach first base, until the seventh. Also until the seventh but three men faced Ogle in each inning, and this was also true in the eighth. In the seventh, Dai, fourth man up, was at bat when Holtz was caught napping at second after he had knocked a double. Holtz was also caught at first in the first inning, after he had been passed. In the ninth, Edmiston for Beaumont came near scoring, due to an error by Ogle, but he was caught between third and home on an attempted come-in.

Waco Always Busy.
In addition to scoring in the first and fifth innings, Waco became dangerous in the third and seventh, and in the third five men got into a play that caught McLaurin between second and third. In the seventh a double play called a halt on operations. Ogle in the box and McLaurin in right field were the bright stars for Waco yesterday. Ogle, pitching a splendid game. Although he struck out only two men, he passed only one, allowed only three hits, and aside from an error in failing to touch first in the ninth inning when the ball was thrown to him, he got away with his game. He was accorded perfect support. McLaurin faced Martina four times, getting three singles and a pass and making one score. Altogether, the Navigators got eight safe ones.

Martina Starts Wild.
Duguey, first up for Waco, was passed, but went out on a double play, resulting from Akin's grounder to short. Crichlow was then passed, McLaurin singled and Wohlleben singled. Crichlow coming in, Wohlleben stole second, and Tanner was passed, as was Stewart, forcing in McLaurin and netting two runs.

Features were lacking in the second, Crichlow and McLaurin singled in the third, the fourth was featureless, and then came the fifth. Duguey, again first up, was passed Akin doubled and Crichlow knocked a fly to left field, which Holtz dropped, scoring Duguey and advancing Akin to third. McLaurin again singled, this time to center, and reached second, Akin and Crichlow coming in while the ball was being relayed around the various bases in an effort to catch one of the three Wacoans. Carson singled in the sixth and stole second; McLaurin was passed in the seventh, but went out with Tanner on the latter's grounder after Wohlleben had singled. The eighth was a quiet session.

Holtz, who was passed, was the only Beaumont man reaching first until the seventh, all the others popping out or knocking easily fielded grounders. In the seventh Mayes, first up, knocked a single to right, but went out with Wheeler on the latter's grounder to Ogle, who, with Tanner and Wohlleben, figured in the double. Holtz then knocked a double to right, but was caught anything but alive at second.

In the ninth Edmiston, first up, doubled to right, and O'Brien went in to pinch hit for Martina, but instead popped out. Mayes then knocked a grounder to Wohlleben, who, unable to reach first, gave to Ogle, who started to cover the sack. Ogle, however, caught the ball, but overstepped, or didn't quit stepping soon enough, at first, Mayes landing safe. In the meantime Edmiston was doing a marathon from second toward home, but was caught between there and third, Ogle relaying the ball to the home plate, from where Carson and Tanner took charge of affairs.

The Beaumont team left last night for Dallas, and San Antonio arrived last night from Fort Worth for a three days' series here. The score yesterday:

Austin, June 21.—The Houston team tried a bunting game today and it worked. McCuller, who had been pitching a fine game, threw the ball away and the blow-up started. The score was 6 to 0 for Houston. Foster held the Senators well. McCuller went out after the blow-up, and Herbert, who relieved him, pitched fairly well. Umpire Gaston made the game a farce. Nearly everything he called during the entire game was wrong, and finally the players began hitting at everything, even if they had to throw their bats at it.

HARVARD AGAIN BEATS YALE ON THE WATER

FOR FIFTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR CRIMSON DEMONSTRATES ROWING SUPREMACY.

By The Associated Press

New London, Conn., June 21.—For the fifth successive year, Harvard demonstrated her rowing supremacy over Yale today by winning not only the Varsity race with six lengths to spare, but capturing the freshmen event by a length and the four-oared contest by ten lengths.

A Yale victory in the freshmen substitute four-oared race yesterday afternoon, a contest not heretofore on the program, prevented a complete crimson sweep for 1912. There was never a doubt of the Varsity race this afternoon, and there was twenty half seconds in time between the boats at the finish. The official time of the three races was:

University race, four miles: Harvard, 21:43 1-2; Yale, 22:04.
Freshmen race, two miles: Harvard, 10:52; Yale, 10:54 1-2.
University fours, two miles: Harvard, 11:24; Yale, 11:55.

Harvard's victories today brought the long series of aquatic contests with Yale to a tie for the first time since 1902. Five successive Harvard victories over Yale have not been achieved by the crimson since 1870.

OKLAHOMA BASEBALL LEAGUE MAGNATES MEET

By The Associated Press

Tulsa, Okla., June 21.—Magnates of the Oklahoma State league will meet here at 1 o'clock Sunday morning for the purpose of effecting a reorganization made necessary by the failure of the Anadarko dropping out of the race. Tulsa and Okmulgee will play a series of games next week for the championship. Enid has taken over the Anadarko franchise. The new league will probably have but six clubs.

ENDS WORRY BY DROWNING.

Special to The Morning News.

Warrensburg, Mo., June 21.—The body of David T. Davenport, who committed suicide by drowning in Pertle Springs lake yesterday, was recovered by divers this morning. Davenport was a retired farmer, living in Warrensburg. He, on Monday, had bid off at sheriff's sale a tract of land, and being, deaf, had misunderstood the acreage. When he was informed how much land he had bought he seemed greatly worried, declaring he had not cash enough to pay for so much. The officers soothed him by telling him they would help him raise the money, but he continued to worry and left his home Monday night at 9 o'clock and did not return. Yesterday his family instituted search and late last night part of his clothing was found at Pertle Springs lake. This morning divers found his body after several hours' work.

CHILD GIVES 32 INCHES OF SKIN TO SAVE SISTER

Special to The Morning News

St. Paul, Minn., June 21.—To enable his sister to recover from burns received nearly a year ago and from which she has suffered intensely since, Leo Tisenbaum, six years old, submitted to an operation in Minneapolis that took 32 square inches of his skin, which subsequently was grafted to the body of the boy's 7-year-old sister, Fannie.

The operation was performed at the Minneapolis city hospital and the little girl now stands far better chances to recover, while the boy will suffer no permanent injury. While the children were playing in their home on July 20, 1911, matches set fire to the girl's dress. Before the flames were extinguished she was badly burned.

Recently the talk of grafting skin as a method of saving the girl was prevalent in the family. Leo heard it and when told of what it meant he insisted that he be permitted to give the skin upon which his sister's recovery depended. Sixteen square inches were taken from each of the boy's thighs.

Baltimore, June 21.—When Mrs. Maria Demarco, 226 South Howard street, called her husband to get ready for mass this morning she did not receive a response. Thinking he was sleeping sounder than usual she started to shake him, when she discovered that he was dead.

Chickens Come Home to Roost and Cause Loss of $24,000 Suit

Special to The Morning News

Los Angeles, June 21.—Strong circumstantial evidence and a judicial opinion as to whether chickens always came to their right home to roost played a part in Judge McDaniel's decision yesterday in a $24,000 damage suit.

Last summer Mrs. Charles Rose of Westgate, missed nine Rhode Island Reds from her chicken yard. Small footprints in close proximity to the coop led to the issuance of a search warrant. The barnyard of Mrs. Frances Manville was searched and chickens identical in number, age and breed were found. Pearl Manville, 15 years of age, was arrested for the theft.

To bolster up his case Mr. Rose took the fowls a couple of blocks away from the family home and liberated them. At nightfall they found their way to the Rose back yard.

After eight days' imprisonment, the case against Pearl Manville was dismissed. Twice later he was arrested on the investigation of the Roses, he claimed, and Mrs. Manville, for her son began suit for $24,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment.

Judge McDaniel decided yesterday that the circumstantial evidence in the case gave reasonable warrant for the boy's arrest and that no malice on the part of the Roses was shown, and found for the defendants.

TIE FISH LINE TO LEG OF TRAINED DUCK

Feeling a Bite, They At Once Pull For Shore, It Is Said.
Special to The Morning News.

Minneapolis, June 21.—Fishing practiced in China is a possible sight at Lake Minnetonka this spring. E. C. Best has bought nine new ducks from E. F. Hopkins Commission Row, and will put them on the big pond at Orono, 11 Minnetonka. The Chinese tie a line to the leg of trained ducks as Mr. Best has bought and put ducks on the water over the big beds. When the trained feels a tug it paddles for the dragging fish.

The ducks are as strong as geese, says Mrs. Hopkins, and pull a fish ashore easily.

The ducks are blue-black and have gray bills and red feet about their bills. The ducks Best has bought are young and tufts of hair on their heads they grow older. Mr. Best says hair disappears and the duck red in the face and all over heads. The ducks are something tirely new on the row.

A call meeting of Waco 92, A. F. & A. M., will be the Masonic Grand Temple on June 22 at 2 o'clock for work. All Masons invited. C. O. DURE, W. C. McCOLLUM.

COTTON ADVANCES EARLY, ACTIVITY NOT KEPT UP

CLOSE IS STEADY, HOWEVER, AT TWO TO SIX POINTS NET HIGHER.

By The Associated Press

New York, June 21.—An early advance in the cotton market was not fully maintained and trading was much less active, but the close was steady, 2 to 6 points net higher.

The opening was steady at an advance of 6 to 8 points in response to unexpected firmness in Liverpool and overnight buying orders attracted by the steadier tone of the local market late yesterday.

The early weather map showed very favorable growing conditions in the south and with the forecasts suggesting its continuance there was considerable cotton for sale around the initial figures. Prices eased off 3 or 4 points in consequence, but as Liverpool continued steady the decline here attracted heavy arbitrage buying, which, in connection with continued support from trade sources and covering of shorts soon caused renewed firmness.

After the close of Liverpool had shut out most of the buying and the market here had shown a net advance of 10 to 12 points, or a net gain of some 25 points from the level of yesterday morning, the buying movement slackened. Offerings did not become aggressive, but with private crop news generally favorable there was more or less scattered selling during the afternoon and prices eased off 4 or 5 points from the best in the late trading. Week-end figures attracted little attention. Receipts 2038 bales, against 2704 last week and 1466 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 751 bales, against 545 last year; at New Orleans 3 bales, against 53 last year, and at Houston 120, against 1267 last year.

WHEAT BUYERS AFRAID OF INCOMING CROP

GENERAL START AT CUTTING IS PROMISED IN MANY STATES.
CORN IS DEPRESSED.

By The Associated Press

Chicago, June 21.—The shadow of the incoming crop made some speculators today unwilling to buy wheat. In consequence the market closed 3/4 @ 1/2c under last night's close. Corn finished unchanged to 1/2c down, oats down 1/4 @ 1/2c, and provisions at a decline of 5 @ 12 1/2c.

With favorable weather, a general start at cutting new wheat was promised for next week in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee. Today's crop advices were mostly favorable.

Corn suffered depression on account of sympathy with wheat. Cash grades were in fair demand.

Shipping call for oats was only limited and the market weakened with other cereals.

Unloading by smaller packers eased the provision market. Pork showed a cut of 12 1/2c in price, and other products 5 @ 7 1/2c as compared with twenty-four hours before.

The close follows:
Wheat—July $1.05 1/2 @ 1/2c, Sept. $1.03 1/2, Dec. $1.04 1/2.
Corn—July 72 1/2 @ 3/4c, Sept. 71 1/2 @ 3/4c, Dec. 62 1/2 @ 3/4c.

TRADE CONDITIONS ARE LOOKING UP

IMPROVED CROP REPORTS AND
TIVITY PROMISING.

By The Associated Press

New York, June 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Improved crop reports and continued activity in industrial circles present the more pleasing aspects of an otherwise quiet trade situation. Jobbers and wholesale dealers in textiles and dress goods are taking fabrics for fall and spring, and in some instances men's wear, for example, re-orders are noted for the higher prices of raw wool, which seem to presage higher quotations of finished goods. An advance of 5 per cent already has been made on broadcloths, and worsted yarns probably will go higher.

The general tendency is to operate cautiously to give some attention to politics and to await clearer views as to probable crop results. However, there is no pessimistic sentiment, and it is noteworthy that political matters, while receiving attention—diverting interest from buying, as it were—do not cause any real concern. The best situated line is iron and steel, where shipments against contracts are especially heavy, with blast furnaces and mills operating to nearly full capacity. This industry is beset by a shortage of labor, which seems to have displayed a drifting tendency.

Shoes at wholesale are dull, because of higher prices. Leather is quite active and strong, with sole leather leading, but hides are easier. Collections are not above fair, and, in fact, many points report them to be very slow, this being especially true of the south, where trade continues dull.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending June 20 were 256, against 256 last week, 222 in the like week of 1911, 187 in 1910, 223 in 1909 and 258 in 1908. Business failures in Canada for the week number 21, which compares with 21 last week and 17 for the like week of 1911.

CREDITORS CANNOT TOUCH WIFE'S HOARDED FUND

Special to The Morning News

Buffalo, N. Y., June 21.—Judge Hazel in the United States district court has handed down an opinion in which he holds that money saved by a housewife from her expense account cannot be seized by her husband's creditors.

Some time ago M. C. Simon filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy declaring that he was insolvent both as an individual and as surviving member of the firm of Meyer & Simon of Rochester. Mrs. Meyer, widow of the deceased member of the firm, had $4000 in Rochester banks which had saved from her allowance of $75 a week for household expenses.

The referee decided that the money should go to the creditors. Judge Hazel reversed the referee's decision.

STOCK MARKET TRIES TO IGNORE POLITICS

GAINS GENERAL AT FIRST, BUT
CHICAGO SLOWLY EXERTS
DEPRESSING INFLUENCE.

By The Associated Press

New York, June 21.—For a brief time today the stock market acted as if it had decided to divorce itself from politics and all other things not exactly related to financial conditions by steering an independent course. That was in the first hour, when the volume of business assumed respectable proportions and gains were general, though in no important instance much over a point. The advance embraced such a variety of issues as to convey an impression of the investment demand. Then came the news that the convention at Chicago might run over into next week, and the market beat a slow but sure retreat. By early afternoon nothing remained of the movement but a few sporadic advances in high-priced, non-speculative issues, such as American Tobacco and Texas company.

For the remainder of the session the market settled down to aimless drift. That the interstate commerce commission continues to exercise careful supervision over the coal companies and fuel carriers was demonstrated in a decision by that body granting "reparation" to one of the independent coal mining companies for "excessive and unreasonable rates" charged by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway.

Additional explanation of the week's rise in copper was furnished by statistics which showed a marked depletion in surplus stocks of the metal here and in Europe. Steel was well supported in connection with circumstantial rumors pointing to a definite announcement of higher prices for finished products in the course of the coming week.

The bond market moved unsteadily, with trifling heaves. Total sales, par value, $2,682,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call.

MILLIONAIRES TO ASK WRIGHT NOT TO FLY

Special to The Morning News

New York, June 21.—That his secrets may be preserved for the benefit of humanity, the millionaire directors of the Wright company will attempt tomorrow to exact a pledge from Orville Wright never to fly again.

The meeting at which this extraordinary action will be taken is to be attended by August Belmont, Theodore Shonts, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Russell Alger, Andrew Freedman and other prominent capitalists.

Wright, who has been in Washington during the last four days, is expected to arrive in this city in time to attend the meeting. As an argument for a favorable decision from Wright, the directors of the company have begun negotiations with George W. Beatty to enter the services of the Wright company as its experimental flyer.

The directors believe that the success of the Wright company, which has paid a 20 per cent dividend on a capitalization of $1,000,000 for the last three years, depends on the schemes for the development of flying possessed only by the surviving member of the Dayton brothers and that the common good demands that he stay out of the air. Orville Wright is regarded as the most expert aeroplane driver in the world.

LITTLE GIRL AND BIG MEN PLAY TOGETHER

Special to The Morning News

Baltimore, June 21.—With a large Plymouth Rock hen, weighing about eight pounds, as a pet, little Frances Tufts, the 3-year-old daughter of H. Harry Tufts, one of the engineers on the Jones, Falls boulevard, has attracted considerable attention and caused much amusement on Garrison avenue, in the neighborhood of Kate avenue, where her father lives. The hen is docile and submits to the caresses showered on her by the little girl.

In place of a doll, little Frances wheels the hen along Garrison avenue in a doll carriage or carries it in her arms as any other child would carry a doll or Teddy bear. She often puts the chicken in the porch swing and, standing behind, pushes the swing to and fro while the hen cuddles up, apparently contented as though she were on the roost in the coop.

He Fights for Freedom

Harry K. Thaw, the young Pittsburgh millionaire, whose sensational murder of Stanford White, the noted architect, brought him world-wide notoriety about six years ago. Thaw was declared to be insane as a result of his trial for the murder of the man whom he declared had despoiled the life of his wife, the beautiful Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, and was sentenced to Matteawan insane asylum for life. Thaw is now making a fight for his freedom, and in the case, which is being heard before Justice Keogh, in the supreme court of New York, Dr. Roy L. Leak, assistant physician at Matteawan, has testified that he examined the slayer of Stanford White and found him to be perfectly rational.

Famous Astor Plate Taken to England by Ex-Wife, Ava Walling

Special to The Morning News

New York, June 21.—The famous Astor plate which, for a score of years during the married life of Colonel John Jacob Astor and his former divorced wife, Ava Walling Astor, was frequently admired by society leaders and friends, has been removed to the English mansion of Mrs. Astor.

It was learned today that this plate, famed all over the country, and marked with the initials "J. J. A." as well as those of the wife, "A. W. A." was removed from this country last January, four months after the second marriage of Colonel Astor to Miss Madeleine Talmadge Force.

A large crate, said to contain 14 cubic feet of silver plate, was transhipped to the English home of Mrs. Astor. It was shortly after the Astors had agreed to separate forever that the famed society leader served notice upon her husband that she intended to take away all that belonged to her. And she followed this with an exact inventory which is said to have surprised the late colonel when he began to inspect it in detail.

CAN WE INTEREST OUR CHILDREN IN THEIR HOMES?

The cry comes from over land and sea. What can we do to keep our children at home? To some the answer is so simple that it is hard to realize that anguished mother hearts are asking it and that worried fathers are trying to solve the problem. If you want to keep your children at home, you, the parent, must revert to your own childhood and live over all its sweets, its joys, sorrows, its ambitions, its dreams and its romance. If you want your children to stay by your side in the home nest, just keep open house for the young; let other children (of the right sort, of course) find ready welcome there; keep open house for their friends. And while you are beginning thus at the beginning of things and you fancy you are immolating yourself on the altar of sacrifice, you will be surprised to find that you are getting your share of fun along with the children, and certain it is that the set of you will not be getting into serious mischief, for youthful minds do not easily conceive criminal or hurtful thoughts, especially when mother is along or father is going swimming with the boys. By keeping the children at home is not meant really to stay within four walls. Far from it. Rather spend as much time out in the open as you can steal from your workaday tasks. That is where mother and the girls get a delightful sense of outdoor freedom and pleasures together, and with the boys, learn to consider dad "a good fellow;" trust daddy for that. All should be out in the glorious fresh air and sunshine, where all the family feels him or herself lord of the universe and the petty cares that infest the day get ashamed to show their unwelcome faces, so they silently steal away, leaving a blessed sense of freedom. Thus each pleasant hour spent together binds closer the family ties till they become so firmly welded that worldly and outside things fail to flaunt alluring invitations to youthful minds, and when the boys and girls think of fun and frolic they come to mother to help plan for it, and for father to share all with them. Does it not seem indeed simple and easy of accomplishment?

"IN DAYS OF OLD."

There are many among us who were familiar with the old-fashioned ox team and cart, the equipage which is indissolubly connected with the early history of our state. To-day this is such a novel sight that such an outfit passing through the streets of our city would cause comment. So unusual is the sight that one enterprising concern has adopted it as an advertising scheme. They have fitted up a "prairie schooner" for trekking purposes, hitching to it three span of oxen, their wide-spreading horns tipped with gold. As they slowly meandered through the city, people rushed to the windows and out of the doors to the sidewalks to gaze at them, for few had ever seen this to them extremely novel sight. It surely has proved an attraction wherever the outfit has gone, for even the old-timers who were so familiar with ox teams enjoy looking at a reminder of the olden days when Texas was the cattleman's paradise. Then there were no locks on the doors and the latch key literally did hang on the outside; and when traveling through the country, if the pangs of hunger became keen, one stopped at the nearest ranch house, farm house or "dugout," where he was immediately made welcome to share with the family in the best the house afforded. Or if night o'ertook the weary horseman on the plains, the nearest house would freely give him shelter, refusing payment in any way save the warm hand clasp of appreciative farewell. Failing to reach a cottage for the night, for the man who had ridden or driven far, and night coming suddenly, found him afield, there was the glorious canopy of heaven with her myriad stars to keep watchful care over all. There, throwing off his saddle for a pillow, with the blanket for covering against the dews of night, and a horse hair rope around him in a circle to keep away the festive rattler, he might lie down to slumber deep, and undisturbed by thought of harm from man, while his horse browsed quietly nearby. In those days a man's house was truly his castle, where he dispensed hospitality with an open hand in royal fashion. Hospitality was the law of the land and a man was cast out utterly who violated its principles or betrayed a trust. This may seem a bit of a diversion from the span of oxen trailing their slow, sure-footed way along weary miles, but they and the generosity of the people, with their strict ideas of honesty, truest of friendships and open hearts seem indissolubly linked together. These are some of the solid, substantial corner stones on which the pillars of our great state are laid, and as time rolls on we will appreciate more and more the simple honesty and virtues of the hardy pioneer forefathers, who builded wisely and well for the generations which follow in their footsteps. All glory to the men who drove the yokes of oxen and tilled the land where now gleam fair acres of grain and blossom white fields of cotton, and goodly homes dot the landscape, crowning the scene with peace and joy and gladness.

CONSIDER THE SUMMER STAY-AT-HOMES

Summer or living porches will soon be the order of the day, for after the present delightfully cool weather old Sol will take revenge by pouring down his vivid rays of heat. Then, when tired man comes home at eventide to rest beneath his own "vine and fig tree," he will find most inviting and restful the well-shaded porch, with its rugs and cushioned easy chairs, perhaps a comfortable swinging seat, while baskets of fern sway in the breeze. A pot of blooming posies will lend the needed touch of color to the pretty scene, and the house mother may sit awaiting your coming by a table upon which reposes the tea tray, flanked by a tankard of iced grape juice or the delightful lemonade which has always been her special gift for you and the children who come in from their romping and healthful playing out of doors, tired but happy and well. Does not the picture sound inviting? And does it not seem eminently more fitting and reasonable that if part of the family, say the father and sons, have to stay at home the long, hot summer through, that mother and the girls stay, too, and help to make life more worth while and more bearable for those who are forced to stay at home and bear the "heat and burden of the day?" Unless forced away by sickness, does it not seem fairer for all the family to share alike? Of course, it is perfectly splendid if the whole family can have a vacation, for everybody should have a rest and play time. Proper recreation is necessary, and change of scenes and climate is most necessary to promoted health and happiness, and all tends to lengthen life, but it does not seem quite fair that father should strive and struggle and work with brain, if not brawn, to get a living, to procure the comforts and perhaps the luxuries of life for his family, and then be obliged to work on alone, coming in at night to a deserted home, unbrightened by the presence of mother and the children, who are away enjoying everything which is denied him, even their loving presence. How much more rational and equal to share alike in the pleasures and the labor of living. Instead of the comfortless, lonesome house, how much more beautiful is the picture of the summer porch, where the dear, faithful mother and wife awaits to give you rest and comfort; in whose broad, loving arms you may rest while her fingers stray lovingly through your hair, even as dull care slips away as if by magic at the touch of her fingers, and you are glad to be alive.

If you have some doubt about the course you would pursue, imagine some other man in your place and then consider the question of him instead of yourself. Try this and see if it will not clear your mental attitude, for it is a good way to get the moral viewpoint of the matter.
